

ABOUT JOURNAL

1. Journal of BRSA Banking and Financial Markets is a refereed journal and is published biannually, in which authentic articles which is written in Turkish and English concerning financial sector that shall contribute to the literature are included.
2. In publishing the Journal, it is aimed to provide contribution to efficient performance of financial markets by increasing information sharing and communication in between academics, professionals, researchers and policy makers.
3. It is obligatory that the articles transmitted for being published were not been published or were not been transmitted for being published in another journal. The articles presented in congress and symposiums shall also be published.
4. Articles found appropriate as a result of the editor evaluation are transmitted to two referee. However, if there is a disagreement between referee reports, the article is transmitted to a third referee. It is decided by the Editor whether if the article shall be published or not, or a requisition amendment on thereof shall be required in accordance with the report to be transmitted by the referees. In case of the requisition amendment, it is required that the author shall transmit the amended article to the Journal within one month latest by making the required amendments. When considered necessary in empirical studies, data used and the computer code shall be demanded from the author.
5. The articles accepted are published as to the order determined by the Editor. The authors are informed concerning the result within three months at latest. The articles which were not found appropriate to be published are not sent back but only are informed to their authors.
6. All rights of the articles accepted to be published are appertaining to Journal of BRSA Banking and Financial Markets. The authors are responsible from all opinion and point of view stated in the articles and the said opinions and point of views are not binding for BRSA. Quote from articles published in the Journal shall be made by referring thereof resource.
7. In the evaluation process of the articles which have been sent to the Journal, international standarts of COPE (Committee on Publication Ethics) for the editors and authors and conformity of the articles to the research and publication ethics are taken into consideration.
8. Pursuant to Guideline on BRSA Publications, copyright fee is paid to the authors for articles founded appropriate to be published in the Journal. It is determined 2000 TL per article as copyright fee for the articles published in the Journal. Furthermore, five copy of Journal from the issue in which their article were published are sent to the authors.
9. It is required that the articles to be sent for being published in the Journal of BRSA Banking and Financial Markets shall be directed electronically in the word format to the e-mail address, "bddkdergisi@bddk.org.tr"